TAKE IT IN TIME

Just as Scores of Norway People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect kidney backache, Urinary troubles often follow. Act in time by curing the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weakened kidneys. Many people in this locality recommend them.

Here's one case: John C. Ripley, the well-known blacksmith, Oxford St., South Paris, says: "I was quite miserable for several months with an attack of kidney trouble. I had pains through the small of my back and my kidneys didn't act regularly. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me in a remarkably short time."

OVER TWO YEARS LATER, Mr. Ripley said: "I have had little occasion to worry about my kidneys since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ripley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE DRUNKEN MAN.

Today a man went staggering by. He was drunk. He had lost the tranquility from his eye. He was drunk. He traveled with unsteady jog. He had been drinking too much grog. He was drunk. I said: "I guess he's water-logged." He was drunk. His legs he wobbled to and fro. He was drunk. I hope he didn't have far to go. He was drunk. I could not have for him a sigh. The people smiled while passing by. And said: "Old man, you're lying high." He was drunk. His hat was tilted to one side. He was drunk. The sidewalk it was not too wide. He was drunk. With a heavy load his form was bent. The people said he owed for rent. And in his pockets not a cent. He was drunk.

He spoke, and said: "Well, Hello, dear." He was drunk. And down the street course did steer. He was drunk. He was sailing on life's stormy seas, His legs were weakened at the knees, His pockets dotted in the breeze. He was drunk. He says: "Well, boys, I just came down." He did not live in Norway town. He was drunk. His coat was wet and up the back. Somebody hollered: "Get a hack!" He said his name was Paddy Whack. He was drunk.

The rose had blossomed on his nose. He was drunk. He wore a brand new suit of clothes. He was drunk. He started in to cut a dash. And then he tumbled down ker-thrash. And broke his bottle all to smash. He was drunk. I noticed that his face was pale. He was drunk. He had been drinking Adam's ale. He was drunk. He then arose and faced the air. He ran his fingers through his hair. He was so mad he could not swear. And broke his bottle all to smash. He was drunk.

Someone led him to a post. And asked him if he'd give a toast. He was drunk. His clothes they were with mud besmeared. The people passing by they cheered. Until a policeman interfered. With the result. Then he was quietly led away. He was drunk. And now in jail he'll have to stay. He said he'd try to mend his ways. And not get drunk like other jays. Not drunk.

Have pity for this wayward lad. Who did not mean to be so bad; And while you're walking down life's strand, Extend to him a friendly hand. Copyright, 1916. Frederick M. Davis, Norway, Me.

Life will always be to a large extent what we ourselves make. Each mind makes its own little world. The cheerful mind makes it pleasant and the discontented mind makes it miserable.

—in thousands of households, people overeat, and their stomachs and livers suffer for it the next day, and even the day following. Ordinarily a good, big dinner hurts no one when some work is done after it. But Sunday is rest-day, and the stomach doesn't get the help of the usual exercise, and sometimes it is given too much to do. In such cases, "L. F." Atwood's Medicine helps the digestion, acts on the bowels and carries off the bile before any harm is done. It is an old family remedy, perfectly safe for even the children, and a good medicine to keep in the house for sudden attacks of indigestion, biliousness and sick headache.

FREE—"My Old Songs" words and music of sixty popular songs sent free on receipt of one outside, yellow wrapper from the bottle, together with your opinion of our Medicine.

PERSONS OF NOTE

of Interest to Oxford County People.

By C. F. WHITMAN

LEON M. SMALL, ESQ.

Leon M. Small of Mexico, who is a candidate in the primaries for the Republican nomination for sheriff of the county of Oxford, was born in Roxbury, Me., March 23, 1876. His parents moved to Norway, when he was quite young, where they resided until the son was twelve years of age. He graduated with exceptional high honors at Hobson Academy. Fifteen years ago he married Miss Clarice Thayer of Dixfield and has one child, a daughter, named for her mother, who is a student at the Mexico High school. For several years Mr. Small was in the employment of the Oxford Paper Company at Rumford Falls, but is now proprietor of the auto bus line between Rumford and Mexico.

He is a member of the Grange, a prominent K. of P. and a Mason. For five years he served on the school board of his town. For four years Mr. Small was deputy sheriff. For a part of this time he was deputized in Franklin County. He takes a leading part in the affairs of his village and town and for the last five years has been chairman of the Republican committee of Mexico. He has always been a Republican, but his family has always been Democratic.

A brother is now serving as a Deputy Sheriff at Rumford and vicinity. Of his political faith Mr. Small states: "I fell out of a Democratic nest when a boy, and never got back in."

As Deputy Sheriff he was a most efficient officer. At Rumford Falls, with so many different races of foreign born people, it is often very difficult to enforce the Maine prohibitory laws. Many people come from countries which have no such laws and their social customs there are totally different from those they find here. The most of them fall into our ways and become good citizens, but some fall into other ways and often drift into lawlessness and crime. No rule has yet been found to separate these classes before coming here. Could there be, it would prove a national blessing. Not all of the criminal classes however, are foreigners. Some of the worst are native born.

It was thought when the project of making Rumford Falls a great business center was started, by putting in all deeds of real estate a provision of forfeiture of the land where intoxicating liquors were habitually sold or dispensed, that it would cure the evil—enforce itself, as it were, something like the famous order of Gen. B. F. Butler in New Orleans, La., during the Civil War, against women insulting our soldiers.

The General's order accomplished its purpose without a single case occurring under it. I have noted too, that trials in court, unfit for refined ears always empty the room of the female portion of the spectators when the Judge remarks: "Before beginning the trial of this case, we will take a recess of a few minutes to permit all ladies to retire. I have often thought his admonition should have included men not concerned in the case. The forfeiture mentioned in Rumford Falls conveyances of real estate there, has not accomplished the desired object and I have never heard of a single instance of any attempt to invoke it."

Mr. Small has the ability and tact required to enforce the laws in his vicinity and in the county. It is claimed that a sheriff located there would have better results from the efforts of his deputies by their being under his constant personal supervision, and that he would better understand the conditions coming daily to his notice and could direct what was best to be done. I do not now recall a single instance during Mr. Small's term of service where his integrity or ability as a faithful and efficient officer was ever called to question.

SCATTERED FAR AND WIDE.

It will be remembered that we printed the "Historical Sketch of North Waterford Congregational Church" in the Advertiser. This was written by Mrs. Ellen M. Davenport and the following letter is from a letter written to Mrs. Davenport that will be read with interest.

Matsuyama, Japan, Feb. 6, 1916.
Dear Mrs. Davenport:

I received recently a newspaper clipping containing your "Historical Sketch of Church," and wish to express my thanks for preparing this interesting sketch. I am very glad to think there are those who have not "forgotten John, Horatio, Lulu and little Arthur," in spite of the fact that "they too are grown to mature years." You may be sure that none of the above-mentioned ever forgot North Waterford with its beautiful and attractive surroundings—including the swimmin' hole in Crooked River, the trout holes in Cole Brook, and many an other feature dear to the heart of boyhood!

The very thought of those things makes all the intervening years drop off, and sends the youthful blood tingling through the veins once more.

And what a host of memories is called up by that list of names of the early members of the church—that church where I used to play at the janitor act of firing up on winter mornings, and ringing that bell (whose wonderful advent from the Meneely Bell Foundry of Troy, N. Y., I so vividly remember!) The greens and lawns and flowers and Saunders and Watsons and Jewetts—and practically the whole list I well remember. And how often I have wondered how many of them were still in the land of the living, and where they might be scattered to.

This clipping was sent me by my mother, who, as you perhaps know, is now Mrs. J. L. Cozad, living at 11432 Mayfield Road, Cleveland, Ohio, and still a pretty spry for an old lady of nearly 89.

She will be that if she lives till July 15 of this year, as she is more than likely to do. My father died July 18, 1889, about two years after I came here to lawlessness and crime. No rule has yet been found to separate these classes before coming here. Could there be, it would prove a national blessing. Not all of the criminal classes however, are foreigners. Some of the worst are native born.

It was thought when the project of making Rumford Falls a great business center was started, by putting in all deeds of real estate a provision of forfeiture of the land where intoxicating liquors were habitually sold or dispensed, that it would cure the evil—enforce itself, as it were, something like the famous order of Gen. B. F. Butler in New Orleans, La., during the Civil War, against women insulting our soldiers.

The General's order accomplished its purpose without a single case occurring under it. I have noted too, that trials in court, unfit for refined ears always empty the room of the female portion of the spectators when the Judge remarks: "Before beginning the trial of this case, we will take a recess of a few minutes to permit all ladies to retire. I have often thought his admonition should have included men not concerned in the case. The forfeiture mentioned in Rumford Falls conveyances of real estate there, has not accomplished the desired object and I have never heard of a single instance of any attempt to invoke it."

Mr. Small has the ability and tact required to enforce the laws in his vicinity and in the county. It is claimed that a sheriff located there would have better results from the efforts of his deputies by their being under his constant personal supervision, and that he would better understand the conditions coming daily to his notice and could direct what was best to be done. I do not now recall a single instance during Mr. Small's term of service where his integrity or ability as a faithful and efficient officer was ever called to question.

May term of the Oxford S. J. court, which opened Tuesday at Rumford. The day was devoted to the empanelling of the juries and assignment of cases.

G. W. Q. J. of Woodstock was elected foreman of the second jury.

Some 20 naturalization cases were before the court Wednesday forenoon. Several to do. The defendant on the other hand said he had paid all but $45. The jury was out but a short time and returned a verdict of $252.41 for the plaintiff.

The forenoon was devoted to naturalization, 13 receiving their papers.

Late in the afternoon, the court listened to evidence relating to the location of the town line between Sumner and Woodstock. It was claimed that the line had been changed within three years.

The court reserved his decision.

Historical Events.

The shot that was heard round the world kindling the Revolution in 1775 was fired at Lexington on April 19. Congress declared war against Mexico after a border skirmish on April 26, 1846, and that incident was made the official pretext for an action that had long been agitated. Fort Sumter was attacked on April 12, 1861, and the first blood of the Civil war was shed in April at Baltimore. April was also the month which marked the close of the Rebellion with the surrender of Lee at Appomattox. The assassination of Lincoln was another

April tragedy.

On April 20, 1898, Congress declared

Cuba free and our Minister Woodford received his credentials at Madrid.

In three days President McKinley called for volunteers, so that the vernal month was packed with the preliminaries of the Spanish war, though the actual inflammatory cause, the sinking of the Maine, preceded these events by two months.

This century's greatest contest which has waged gained impetus from an April event, except the war of 1812. This century's struggle against England was brewing for a dozen years and it is difficult to point out one incident which signalizes the beginning of the war spirit. Perhaps the most dramatic episode was the attack of the British frigate Leopard on the United States frigate Chesapeake, but that occurred on June 27, 1807, and preceded actual hostilities by five years.

If one insists on forcing the parallel he may say that after the embargo had been repealed in 1806, the closing of J. M.

Madison's administration, President Madison renewed the proposal on April 1, 1812, and that was recognized as a preparation for the outbreak which came with a formal declaration in June. However, in view of the chaotic beginnings of this war extending over a decade, it is better not to press the theory too far in this instance.

Other exceptions to be noted are the Barbary-war, Philippine insurrection and Indian troubles, but these were all minor affairs. However, despite such deviations from the general rule, the persistence of this coincidence, so far as American history is concerned, is as remarkable as the fact that so many of our great men have been born in February; Washington,

Merchants' Association.

A meeting of the Merchants and clerks of Norway, was held Friday evening, May 5th at the Atherton Furniture store to organize and to make plans for a Dollar Day at Norway.

The matter of forming a Merchants' organization was thoroughly discussed and the general idea on the subject was that the merchants and the town would be greatly benefitted from such an organization. The purpose of the association is for co-operation among the merchants and to become better acquainted with each and to boost the town in a united way.

The vote was in favor of organizing and Wm. C. Leavitt was chosen president, R. S. Osgood, secretary and W. M. Mann, treasurer.

It was voted to hold monthly meetings and the next meeting will be held Friday evening, May 19th and a supper will be served. The idea of holding a Dollar Day in Norway was thoroughly discussed and August 3 was the date set for Dollar Day.

A committee made up of Homer R. Luck, Clinton Massee, Robert P. Blackford, R. O. Porter, R. S. Osgood and Elmer D. Packard, was appointed to serve as an organizing committee, also to get a list of the members. The same committee is the advertising committee for the Dollar Day.

Work commenced Monday morning to tear down the old Elm House. It was started on the back side, the side furthest from the street. The timber in the house is of a quality that is better than the timber of today.

Hyman L. Savage of New Auburn is making his usual tour through the eastern part of Oxford County and part of Cumberland County.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Beck were in Portland Friday and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stiles returned with them. Mr. and Mrs. Moses Stiles also came with them in another car.

Word has been received from Hubert Brooks and he is located at Randolph, N. Y., 450 miles west of New York City, for a short time; then he will go further west.

The first strokes for tearing down the Elm House were taken Monday morning. Horace Dinsmore and crew began the work.

THE TIME OF THE SINGING OF BIRDS.

Or Count Your Blessings.

"So amid the conflict, whether great or small, Do not be discouraged; God is over all. Count your many blessings; angels will attend, Help and courage give you till your journey's end."

The joyous springtime has come again, happy song birds are flying about in the shade trees near by, and the budding leaves and flowers have appeared. To-day a kind friend has placed a bunch of beautiful Mayflowers, trailing arbutus on the stamens in the hall, and the sweet fragrance reminded me of my childhood days, when in company with my dear young friends I would go to the groves in search of them, or any kind we could find and take them home to mother.

I am eighty-six years old, but as I went out today for a little walk, I found nice dry sidewalks and people were out clearing their lawns that already began to look fresh and green. This was the first time I had been out since fall, and it had been fifty years since I used to come to Norway. Every one I met was happy, I guess they were "counting their blessings," for I can say that I felt so, for I could walk along very nearly as spry as any of them for a short distance, I told my friend I thought I could walk a mile! Some I met were bowed with age or the infirmities of ill health, and doubtless found it hard to look on the bright side, but if we will we can count a great many blessings every day. I can enumerate quite a number that I did not have a year ago, so I'll take courage. The young people near by here had better be careful if they don't want to be caught some evening hanging their pretty May baskets.

I read these words today and they seemed so good I want to pass them on. "Sunshine and shadow mingle in every life. Joy and sorrow, success and failure walk hand in hand. Let us try to forget the things which vex and tire us, the worrying things which cause our souls to forget, the hopes that cherished long ago are still denied us, let us forget. Let us forget our brothers' faults and failings. Let us remember the sacrifice of love, the generous giving; when friends were low, the hand clasp warm, and strong, the fragrance of each, of holy living, yes, remember long. What- ever things are great and true and gracious, what love of God or man has rendered precious, let us remember long. For 'God is over all, He created all things.'"

The writings of the great and good Josephus, a historian living in the time of Christ, are very interesting, on this subject he writes,—"God is a being every-where perfect and happy, the beginning, the middle and the end of things. We see His works, the light, the heavens and the earth, the sun and the moon, the waters, the creation of animals, the productions of fruits. These things hath God made. All men ought to follow this being."

There ought also to be but one temple for one God, this temple ought to be common to all men, because He is the common God of all men. "May we ever try to keep in remembrance this precious verse found in Luke 11:28—"Blessed are they that hear the word of God and keep it." Blessed are they that do His Commandments, Blessed, blessed, blessed are they."

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Flint celebrated their golden wedding at their home, Wednesday, May 3.

Mr. Flint was the son of Daniel and Susan Towne Flint and was born Feb. 6, 1837, on the farm where W. E. Canwell now lives. This place was cleared by his grandfather, Ephraim Flint, who was one of the first settlers in town. Mrs. Flint was the daughter of Joseph and Eliza Jordan Flint and was born Oct. 1, 1845, on the farm adjoining the one which has been their home for fifty years and where they now live. They are the oldest couple living in town. Mrs. Flint has been an invalid for twelve years and those busy hands which had toiled so wisely for her loved ones have become almost helpless and have lain idle for long years. With what patient cheerfulness she has borne her affliction only those who have loved and cared for her can tell.

Mr. and Mrs. Flint were married in her father's home, May 3, 1866, by Rev. Samuel Gould and the last meal in her old home was eaten at midday; then in the afternoon the young couple went across the field to the new home which was in readiness for them, and there they have lived and loved and shared each other's joys and sorrows for fifty years under the same roof that shelters them today.

Four children came to bless their union and make their home happier, and they are more fortunate in that they still have them all in their home to be their help and comfort in their declining years, and where they are so much needed to care for the invalid mother.

Mr. Flint is quite well and active for one of his years. He has lived in Albany the whole of his life with the exception of two years which were spent in Providence, R. I., just before the war, when he was a young man.

Mr. Flint has one half-brother, Parker Flint, but he was unable to be present. Mrs. Flint has two brothers, Leonard Flint of Norway, and Dexter Flint of Waterford. The brother, Dexter, was present. Also one sister, Mrs. Sarah Woodsum of Norway, was unable to be there.

Thirty-four friends and relatives gathered to extend their congratulations and show their esteem for this worthy couple who stand so high in the regard of their townpeople. A bountiful dinner was served at noon which went to prove that the noted culinary skill of Mrs. Flint has surely been handed down to her daughters. A. G. Bean entertained the company with selections on the phonograph. Their friends wish them many more happy years added to the fifty already lived so honestly and uprightly.

DID YOU KNOW

That no other one thing alone will do as much toward decorating and furnishing a room as will the Right Kind of Wall Paper?

And when you have seen the coloring and designs of all selected on account of their general adaptability, you will have to admit that our papers are "RIGHT." Many of these wall papers are made with

OUR 1916 LINE

MATCHED CRETONNES

but equally good effects are produced by the use of other material and in many cases plain goods are the more harmonious. We have an entirely and shall be glad to show them to you when you are looking for wall paper.

NEW LINE OF THESE DRAPERIES

N. Dayton Bolster Co.,

SOUTH PARIS, MAINE

We will send you this paper four months on trial for 50 cents and you can pay any time during the time. Write us or telephone 119-11.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.

Robert K. Brazier, the oldest man in Hiram, will be 88 years old on May 19. We hope that very many persons will send him cordial greetings on that day. His long and diligent life as a shoemaker has been of great service to three or four generations. His wife died some years ago, and he lives alone in East Hiram village, and does his own work. He still works at his trade as he has for some seventy years. He was a delegate to the first Republican Convention ever held in Maine on Paris Hill in 1854, and we are positive that he is the last member of that convention now living. He holds the Boston Post gold-headed cane, which has been held in succession by Elias Gould, aged 95; George W. Osgood, 91; Andrew Merrifield, 95.

Bertha Stacy, the popular and successful teacher in the Hiram Hill school, aided by her fifteen pupils, has cleaned up the school-house lot, and arranged some nice flower beds.
